

MIAMI TODAY

Week of Thursday, September 16, 2004

Marci Richardson

FIU business school adds information aide

Marci Richardson has been named coordinator of information and communications for Florida International University's College of Business Administration. Her responsibilities will include publishing the business school's three newsletters and gathering information for publications. Ms. Richardson was a free-lance reporter for the South