FIU business school hires two professors

Florida International University's College of Business administration has added two professors to its department of management and international business.

The college said in a statement that it has named Sumit K. Kundu as associate professor and Aya Chacar as assistant professor.

Previously, Kundu lectured at Saint Louis University, Northeastern University and Rutgers University, where he earned his Ph.D. in international business.

Chacar joins FIU after teaching at the London Business School. She received a Ph.D. at the University of California at Los Angeles.
