

MiamiHerald.com

December 17, 2006

NEIGHBORS

College Scene

Florida International University College of Business Administration student Alexis Nogueras, who holds an MBA from the Chapman Graduate School of Business, won in one category at the first Florida Collegiate Business Plan Competition. His winning idea was to manufacture ergonomic garden tools that are more comfortable for people to handle than traditional ones. The win will allow Nogueras to present his plan to the Florida Venture Forum.