

Present your company to capital venture investors

If your company has a proven business model and is looking to expand doing business in Latin America and South Florida, you might qualify for an opportunity to present your plan at the second annual Americas Venture Capital Conference hosted by Florida International University.

But you have to apply by the deadline, Aug. 15.

Companies have to create an online profile in the FIU Pino Center's Global Innovative Ventures Knowledge Base prior to August 15, 2011.

The opportunity will give companies a chance to network, have a display, and make presentations to potential investors.

The conference, presented by FIU's Eugenio Pino and Family Global Entrepreneurship Center and the College of Business Administration, will be held Nov. 16-17, at the Biltmore Hotel in Coral Gables.

Get more information about the 2011 Americas Venture Capital Conference, including registration, criteria and sponsorship opportunities or call 305-348-7156.