

The Miami Herald

MANAGEMENT

Florida's top women in business

The Center for Leadership at Florida International University and the FIU College of Business Administration have partnered with the Commonwealth Institute South Florida to conduct the 2006 Women in Business Leadership Study.

The study will identify the top women-led and women-owned businesses in Florida. It also will provide greater understanding of the success strategies of women leaders at businesses with $1 million or more in revenue. The top woman-led Florida companies will be announced in late spring 2006 at a FIU/TCI-sponsored event.

"We want to identify women leaders in Florida who are under the radar and learn about their likes, dislikes and how they came up the ranks," said Jodi Cross, director of The Commonwealth Institute South Florida. Participate in the survey at www.lead.fiu.edu/survey.

— CINDY KRISCHER
GOODMAN