

February 2007

► Print Friendly Version

Highlights

In Our Words

Emerging Mexico

Regional Leaders In Depth

Exclusive Interview: U.S. Representative Gregory Meeks on Free Trade

Events and Analysis

Annual Latin America Conference Explores Regional Policy

Viewpoints Americas

Latin American Equities: Another Nasdaq-Style Bubble or a Long-Term Bull Market?

Hemispheric Updates

Trade Update-Key Provisions in Pending Bilateral Agreements

In Our Words

Emerging Mexico

By Eric Farnsworth

1 February 2007, Poder

Recent elections in the U.S. and Mexico offer a significant opportunity to build the bilateral relationship in broader, more balanced terms. President Calderon has already taken concrete steps to partner with the United States on law enforcement and other complex issues including migration.

Full Article

Return To Top

Upcoming Events

Andean Panel: New Governments, New Directions

February 20, New York

Click here to register

Cuba After Fidel w/U.S. Commerce Secretary Gutierrez

February 21, Washington

Click here to register

H.E. Luis Carranza Ugarte, Minister of Economy and Finance of Peru

February 22, New York

Click here for information

The Future of Ethanol, Biofuels, and Energy Policy in the Americas

February 22, New York

Click here to register

FIEL Chief Economists: Argentina's Economic Outlook

February 28, New York

Click here to register

View all events

Regional Leaders In Depth

Exclusive Interview: U.S. Representative Gregory Meeks on Free Trade

Rep. Meeks, a leading voice in the U.S. Congress on votes to open markets abroad, believes that the Peru trade agreement is "a bill that could be passed." He notes an important message: The loss of U.S. jobs is with countries where the U.S. does not have trade agreements. Trade has become more balanced where free-trade agreements are in place.

Full Interview

Tom Shannon Outlines U.S. Policy in the Americas

The U.S. Assistant Secretary of State for Western Hemisphere Affairs calls for 2007 to be the year of engagement, both with new leaders and existing partners. The U.S. will work with any government independent of where it falls on the ideological spectrum.

Full Public Remarks

Return To Top

Events and Analysis

Happily Ever AAFTA

Robert Zoellick, former U.S. Trade Representative and former Deputy Secretary of State, proposes the creation of a new Association of American Free Trade Agreements. AAFTA should advance economic integration while linking development and democracy with trade and aid.

Full Article

Annual Latin America Conference Explores Regional Policy

Current and former high-level policymakers from the U.S., Canada, Chile, and Mexico presented in-depth analyses on the implications of the hemisphere's recent elections. With over 100 public and private sector participants in attendance, the conference cast new light on the democratic and economic direction of the Americas.

Full Summary

News From

FT.com
FINANCIAL TIMES

Colombia and U.S. close to free trade deal - February 1

A free trade deal between the US and Colombia could be ratified by June, the Andean country's foreign minister said. "We need this deal. There are 150,000 jobs at stake. If we do not have the framework these jobs will be destroyed."

Mexico protest prompts food price assurance - February 1

Mexico's president has promised measures to maintain price stability in basic goods and services.

Ecuador reinforces fears of default - January 31

Ecuador's government reinforced fears of default when it presented a budget that set aside funds for debt servicing but warned again that it may not pay.

Chavez's socialism may sacrifice cheap petrol - January 25

Venezuelans are bracing themselves for perhaps the most shocking everyday economic impact yet: an end to virtually free petrol.

Focus on Competitiveness Not Just Trade

Free trade aside, Jerry Haar writes that Latin America will fall further behind in the global marketplace without institutional, infrastructure and human capital reforms. Greater competitiveness is the most important factor in shaping economic destiny.

Full Article

Return To Top

Viewpoints Americas

Beyond Ethanol: Renewable Energies in Latin America

Stefan Krauter, Chair of Rio World Climate and Energy Events, and Keith Parsons examine alternative energies in Brazil and throughout the Americas. Both large and small projects, including wind energy initiatives, will be critical to meeting energy demands.

Full Article

Latin American Equities: Another Nasdaq-Style Bubble or a Long-Term Bull Market?

Dario Lizzano, Global Head of Equities at Grupo Santander, believes 2007 will mark a fifth consecutive year of positive returns for regional equities and outperformance over both emerging and developed markets. Improvements in the region's economic position are linked to both domestic and external factors.

Full Article

Return To Top

Hemispheric Updates

Argentina Country Update

With presidential elections in October, the AS/COA takes a first glance at the political environment and potential candidates. One of the central campaign issues will be the economy, which has expanded at impressive rates and is expected to keep growing.

Full Update

Trade Update-Key Provisions in Pending Bilateral Agreements

The future of the Colombia and Peru Trade Promotion Agreements is now in the hands of the U.S. Congress. But, what is in the fine text of these agreements? The AS/COA unravels how ratification would affect market access, labor, services and investment.

Full Update

Brazil roads U-turn puts spotlight on statist - January 14

President Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva's chief of staff announced that concessions for running seven federal highways, previously expected to be put out to tender, would no longer be offered to the private sector.

IDB/IC Inter-American Business Forum

March 17, Guatemala City
Click here for agenda and registration

News & Views

from AS/COA is published monthly by Americas Society and Council of the Americas, © 2007

Jason Marczak
Editor

Sofia Mancheno
Washington Editor

Alana Tummino
Eva Fernandez
Juan Cruz Diaz
Kelli Bissett
Maria Lotito
Mateo Samper
Veronica Prado
Virginia Resende
Contributors

Mexico Country Update

While President Calderon has made inroads on domestic security, he has had to face the formidable challenge of rising tortilla prices and its economy-wide effects. The new government is intent on raising Mexico's profile in the Americas and beyond.

Full Update

Venezuela Country Update

President Chavez has begun his new term with a bang—pledging to nationalize telecommunications and electricity industries. The AS/COA moves beyond the headlines to explore these industries and other political developments.

Full Update

Return To Top

Americas Society and Council of the Americas

Susan Segal
President & CEO

Chris Sabatini
Senior Director of Policy

Michele Lewy
Senior Director of Programs

Victor Arango
Senior Director of Communications

Greg Smith
Director, Information Technology

Council of the Americas Washington

Eric Farnsworth
Vice President

Send News & Views to a friend. Enter the e-mail address below:

Send To A Friend

Send Comments/Questions

For other articles and publications of the Americas Society and Council of the Americas, visit <http://www.as-coa.org/>.

To be removed from the mailing list, please click here

This newsletter is published monthly by the Americas Society and Council of the Americas, non-partisan organizations founded to promote better understanding and dialogue in the Western Hemisphere, working in collaboration to advance their respective missions. The Americas Society is a public charity described in I.R.C. Section 501(c)(3), and Council of the Americas, a business league under I.R.C. Section 501(c)(6). The positions and opinions expressed in this publication are those of the authors or guest commentators and speakers and do not represent those of the Americas Society and Council of the Americas or its members or the Boards of Directors of either organization. No part of this publication may be reproduced in any form without permission in writing from the Americas Society and Council of the Americas.