Dr. John S. Zdanowicz is Appointed Florida International Bankers' Association Professor in

Joyce J. Elam, executive dean, College of Business Administration and vice provost, FIU Online at Florida International University announced today the appointment of Dr. John S. Zdanowicz as professor in the college's Department of Finance and Real Estate and director of the college's Jerome Bain Real Estate Institute to the Florida International University College of Business Administration for a term of three years. The appointment is effective as of January 1, 2008. "This appointment recognizes Dr. Zdanowicz' impressive performance in teaching in the field of finance and international banking," Elam said. "He served for many years (1989-2002) as director of the college's Center for Bank and Finance Department." The FIBA professorship was established in 1998 thanks to a $100,000 gift (to which 50% in state matching funds were added) from the Florida International Bankers' Association (FIBA), Inc., a 29 year old trade association founded in 1979. Its membership includes more than seventy financial institutions from eighteen countries representing approximately 6,000 students. "This appointment recognizes Dr. Zdanowicz' impressive performance in teaching in the field of finance and international banking," Elam said. "He served for many years (1989-2002) as director of the college's Center for Bank and Finance Department." The FIBA professorship was established in 1998 thanks to a $100,000 gift (to which 50% in state matching funds were added) from the Florida International Bankers' Association (FIBA), Inc., a 29 year old trade association founded in 1979. Its membership includes more than seventy financial institutions from eighteen countries representing approximately 6,000 students. "This appointment recognizes Dr. Zdanowicz' impressive performance in teaching in the field of finance and international banking," Elam said. "He served for many years (1989-2002) as director of the college's Center for Bank and Finance Department." The FIBA professorship was established in 1998 thanks to a $100,000 gift (to which 50% in state matching funds were added) from the Florida International Bankers' Association (FIBA), Inc., a 29 year old trade association founded in 1979. Its membership includes more than seventy financial institutions from eighteen countries representing approximately 6,000 students. "This appointment recognizes Dr. Zdanowicz' impressive performance in teaching in the field of finance and international banking," Elam said. "He served for many years (1989-2002) as director of the college's Center for Bank and Finance Department." The FIBA professorship was established in 1998 thanks to a $100,000 gift (to which 50% in state matching funds were added) from the Florida International Bankers' Association (FIBA), Inc., a 29 year old trade association founded in 1979. Its membership includes more than seventy financial institutions from eighteen countries representing approximately 6,000 students. "This appointment recognizes Dr. Zdanowicz' impressive performance in teaching in the field of finance and international banking," Elam said. "He served for many years (1989-2002) as director of the college's Center for Bank and Finance Department." The FIBA professorship was established in 1998 thanks to a $100,000 gift (to which 50% in state matching funds were added) from the Florida International Bankers' Association (FIBA), Inc., a 29 year old trade association founded in 1979. Its membership includes more than seventy financial institutions from eighteen countries representing approximately 6,000 students. "This appointment recognizes Dr. Zdanowicz' impressive performance in teaching in the field of finance and international banking," Elam said. "He served for many years (1989-2002) as director of the college's Center for Bank and Finance Department." The FIBA professorship was established in 1998 thanks to a $100,000 gift (to which 50% in state matching funds were added) from the Florida International Bankers' Association (FIBA), Inc., a 29 year old trade association founded in 1979. Its membership includes more than seventy financial institutions from eighteen countries representing approximately 6,000 students. "This appointment recognizes Dr. Zdanowicz' impressive performance in teaching in the field of finance and international banking," Elam said. "He served for many years (1989-2002) as director of the college's Center for Bank and Finance Department." The FIBA professorship was established in 1998 thanks to a $100,000 gift (to which 50% in state matching funds were added) from the Florida International Bankers' Association (FIBA), Inc., a 29 year old trade association founded in 1979. Its membership includes more than seventy financial institutions from eighteen countries representing approximately 6,000 students. "This appointment recognizes Dr. Zdanowicz' impressive performance in teaching in the field of finance and international banking," Elam said. "He served for many years (1989-2002) as director of the college's Center for Bank and Finance Department." The FIBA professorship was established in 1998 thanks to a $100,000 gift (to which 50% in state matching funds were added) from the Florida International Bankers' Association (FIBA), Inc., a 29 year old trade association founded in 1979. Its membership includes more than seventy financial institutions from eighteen countries representing approximately 6,000 students. "This appointment recognizes Dr. Zdanowicz' impressive performance in teaching in the field of finance and international banking," Elam said. "He served for many years (1989-2002) as director of the college's Center for Bank and Finance Department." The FIBA professorship was established in 1998 thanks to a $100,000 gift (to which 50% in state matching funds were added) from the Florida International Bankers' Association (FIBA), Inc., a 29 year old trade association founded in 1979. Its membership includes more than seventy financial institutions from eighteen countries representing approximately 6,000 students. "This appointment recognizes Dr. Zdanowicz' impressive performance in teaching in the field of finance and international banking," Elam said. "He served for many years (1989-2002) as director of the college's Center for Bank and Finance Department." The FIBA professorship was established in 1998 thanks to a $100,000 gift (to which 50% in state matching funds were added) from the Florida International Bankers' Association (FIBA), Inc., a 29 year old trade association founded in 1979. Its membership includes more than seventy financial institutions from eighteen countries representing approximately 6,000 students. "This appointment recognizes Dr. Zdanowicz' impressive performance in teaching in the field of finance and international banking," Elam said. "He served for many years (1989-2002) as director of the college's Center for Bank and Finance Department." The FIBA professorship was established in 1998 thanks to a $100,000 gift (to which 50% in state matching funds were added) from the Florida International Bankers' Association (FIBA), Inc., a 29 year old trade association founded in 1979. Its membership includes more than seventy financial institutions from eighteen countries representing approximately 6,000 students.