FYI Miami is a weekly feature of Miami Today, keeping readers ahead of the news. Here are highlights from the most current edition.

COMPLEX COMPLETE: Florida International University this month opened its business building complex, designed in part by BEA International of Coral Gables. The new 81,000-square-foot complex consists of three buildings at the heart of the University Park campus. It includes a special events center, offices for executive and professional education MBA programs, an auditorium and classrooms, among other facilities.
