FIU gets piece of $4.5 million grant

Florida International University's College of Business Administration said Friday it's been included in a $4.5 million, five-year grant from the U.S. Agency for International Development to help farmers in Honduras and Guatemala increase business know-how and exports.

The college will receive about $868,000 as its part of the AID grant awarded to Winrock International, a nonprofit group based on Petit Jean Mountain near Morrilton, Ark. The school plans to send graduate students to provide technical help and training to farmers and farmer groups in the Central American nations.
